SAINT GERMAIN

Did you ever see anybody go forth in the understanding of metaphysical law, who won any permanent success? The reason for it is this — they have no foundation; they have no anchorage, which is the “Mighty I AM Presence”! They have to have this Explanation of the Presence in order to have an anchorage, in order to have a Foundation upon which to build, otherwise it is a fluctuating foundation which knows no landing spot.

SAINT GERMAIN

Here is a point, I think I should try to help you clear and understand. The entire element of the accumulation of discord of mankind, stands in its own octave — in its stratum. When you become inharmonious and you puncture into that, it naturally rushes thru. It does not see, it does not discriminate, but it wants to find expression; and since it is mankind's own Life — its energy — and for the sake of expression we call it a blind force, because it practically is. If you open a funnel for that to pour out, the whole thing within that stratum is going to want to pour out; and many times, only when the one who has opened himself or herself to it, is taken out of physical embodiment, does that thing shut off.
