

Beloved Aries

To understand the great gifts that flow constantly to mankind through the Powers of Nature and the Beings of the Elements means, My Dear Ones, that you enter into an entire world of its own, an activity with which you have had almost no contact. You might have had some slight contact if you are working in the channels of Nature and the Powers of the Elements, but to feel yourselves at one with their realm through that which Love alone can give—and the Immortal Purity which it demands before its gift can come to you—then as you become acquainted with these other realms of Life will your Joy know no bounds, because they are infinite in their ever-expanding activity of creation.

They are infinite in their Beauty and Perfection, and they give blessings and happiness that nothing else can bestow.

They exist for that reason. And then as you become aware of their existence and understand something of what their blessing to the Earth means, when you become one with that, will you find their blessings flooding your worlds with joy and things that you never dreamed could exist.

So do not fail, in even handling of the things that you use everyday, to constantly keep recognizing that the things of this world are at all times the creations of the Powers of Nature and the Beings of the Elements—even to your own flesh bodies. When you understand what is in this Command, you will know what the Mighty Victory meant tonight when He said you could purify these bodies in one day, provided your Love to the Beings of the Elements and your Demand for Immortal Purity is your Command for their release from you of that which has been your limitation of the past.

The things of this world are all created, and held together, by the Beings of the Elements; therefore to make them your friends, to demand that they be released from mankind's impurity and discord, means to draw forth from the Powers of Nature and the Beings of the Elements a gratitude from those blessed Beings for their freedom that would make them your friends for Eternity.
